Why choose us

In an information-rich world, finding facts you can rely upon isn’t always easy. MarketLine is the solution.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

“Our delegates find the industry reports on MarketLine invaluable for their project work and course related studies. They appreciate their scope and global coverage as well as the five forces analysis. They find the SWOT analysis chapter of the company profiles particularly useful. The country reports offer delegates a good starting point when looking at international business environments. The recent addition of the case studies has added real value to delegate research; bringing corporate issues to life.”

Cranfield School of Management, UK

“I just want to reiterate how important MarketLine is to us here at the University of Texas at Austin. MarketLine has become one of our go-to sources. We demo the database in every MBA and Entrepreneurship class we teach and we recommend the reports in almost every email and face-to-face consultation we offer to students.”

University of Texas Libraries, USA

IESE Library has been using MarketLine for a few years now and it is frequently and broadly used by our MBA students. Above all, they love its market data reports and company SWOT analysis because of their user friendly formats and the up-to-date and accurate information they provide.”

IESE, Spain

“The reason I like using MarketLine is the timeliness of the information and the way each report is organized. This makes cross-company comparisons easier than using Harvard Business Review cases.”

Michigan State University, USA

The new Country Analysis feature is very popular with all the marketing academics & they have been getting students to use the data for their assignments. Also, the Market Data Analytics database within MarketLine is ideal for real marketing intelligence information & comparisons between countries.

Queensland University of Technology, Australia

“Marketline is an integral part of our business department. Our Executive Education: Custom programmes has built the use of MarketLine into their programme design and delivery mode. We currently use MarketLine’s information to better design our programmes, but also give our faculty insight into the “working” of the company. Our MBA’s also find it a great value add when it comes to their research projects especially those focused on specific industries.”

Gordon Institute of Business Science, South Africa
